"We exist despite the sober formality of great concert halls, despite the boredom of a classical musicians' life, despite fanatic lovers of classical music, despite fans of rock, rap or pop who are afraid of classical music. We treat our Muse with a humorous irony and we're sure, she will have nothing against it!"

Direct from the "Just for Laughs" comedy festival in Montreal, the Monty Python of string quartets are ready to bring their hilarious musical cabaret to the orchestra stage. The four gentlemen of MozART Group have created a unique show that has been delighting audiences of every age all over the world. Their uproarious vignettes from a most unlikely source, classical music, will fill the hall with laughter and introduce new fans to old music.

This uncommon ensemble are all highly-trained musicians who graduated from prestigious Academies in Poland, but decided to play classical music in a humorous way. Since 1995 they have performed in over 50 countries on four continents. They have received an impressive number of prestigious awards in Europe including a special prize from the Ministry of Culture of the Republic of Poland and three main prizes at the "Festival des Artes Burlesques" in France. Starting in October 2018, the quartet will perform a 65-show residency at the Bobino Theatre in Paris. In 2017, they made return engagements to dozens of countries and released their latest DVD, "Mozart Comes to Town."
